As the Dominion now possesses exclusively the right to manage our postal and telegraphic affairs, I shall endeavor to secure for the Eastern Coast a bi-weekly maisteamer of a superior class to the one now plying on the coast,—and also better mail facilities in each Settlement and as I deem it to be of great importance commercial to have the most rapid means of transmitting intelligence between Nanaimo and Victoria, I shall urge on the Federal Government the importance of the early construction of a telegraph line to connect the two principal towns in the Province.

The increasing importance of the commerce of the Gulf of Georgia renders it necessary to have more Lighthouses. I shall therefore make the most strenuous exertions to induce the Federal Government to build a lighthouse at Nanaimo at once, and to erect others elsewhere, as soon as possible, te insure greater safety and certainty in navigating the Gulf.

With respect to the Indians, I will urge that they be settled on Reservations, under the superintendence of other overnment, be taught the arts of civilization, and thus have their social, moral, and religious conditions rapidly improved.

TENTLEMEN:—Having been requested by a number of Electors to become a candidate for the representation of this district, I have great piesaure in complying with this request, and beg to solicit your votes and support. It is customary on such occasions for candidates to express their views and, opinions on the leading issues of the day and in deference to this custom I beg to offer for your approval the following policy. Gentlemen: Nothing can be more gratifying than the henor of having succased in gaining the approbation and good will of the people of one the most important constituencies in the country, I have great pleasure in eccepting the nomination alluded to in your equisition. The next Legislative Assembly will probably be the most important that has ver met in this colony, and it behoves all good men to be vigilant, and to exert themelves to insure the successful working of 'arlamentary Government.

It may be found well in practice to remember that the misrepresentations of those descriptions.

oer that the misrepresentations of those de-igning men, who so loudly asserted that you were not qualified to exercise political functions with advantage to yourselves or to the country, have been signally refuted, and that twelve years of misgovernment proves most conclusively, that they were not competent to hold, or exercise, the office of governors with advantage or safety to the community with advantage or safety to the community. G. G. Walker, Geo. Hemingway, clitical improvement from men in whose Philip T. Johnson ficial career is not to be found material rogress, when not identified with their persons profit or advancement. I confess that when is astrough retrogression of the past, I am uzzled to account for the long continuance of a political system, to which is traceable so much unmixed evil—a system containing cubin itself such active elements of ruin, which when considered in the abstract, might have been expected to put an end to its existence much sooner. Nor indeed is this all. It will be the duty of future legislators, in their post mortem examination of the late covernment to fearlessly probe the complicat-ed disorders which paved a way for its final

It is not probable that any modern English community has suffered political ills so pati-cally as the people of British Columbia. The amount of maladministration, and the extraordinary nature of official aggrandizement is berfectly astounding. A mored ephyrable collection of despotic follies can hardly be imagined.

We have seen public servants voting their own salaries, fixing their own pensions, defying public opinion, and pursuing with studied malevolence, the popular representatives. ves. We have seen mere adventurers, emplo .ed as envoys entrusted with important

s ate secrets-adventurers who are universal y execrated, whom the people have never trusted and have long suspected—creatures who are to British Columbians what the hateful Claudians were to the Ancient Romans. Nay, to crown this humiliating drama, a perverse and apparently senseless superior authority, receive them with folsome flattery, and applause and preferment is showered up their heads in proportion to the mischief

The singularly baneful and distinctive nature of these events, is pregnant with instruction and warning, and affords to every reflecting mind numerous and important les-sons. The time appears appropriate for turning such lessons to account by improvements at once expedient, practical, and decisive; but they realize only half the danger which these events indicate, who see in them only official usurpation on the one hand, and determined opposition on the other. The lesson which these events teach us is, that gross legislation and extreme agitation are inseperably connected —that each is the blood relation of the other. Nay more, the danger indicated is to be apprehended by placing great powers in the hands of our governors without being secured by immediate not remote, certain not dubious onstitutional laws that those power shall no be abused.

It will hardly be disputed by men of candonr and experience that there are certain requisites indispensably necessary to the security and efficiency of all just governments the most important of which I believe to be, treedom and security against wrong. Now I think you will readily admit that most civilized governments have succeeded pretty well in securing the people against wrong from each other; but to secure them by laws against wrong from the government itself, is a problem of a far more difficult sort, which few nations since the commencement of gov-ernments have attempted to solve. But it is a problem upon the solution of which depends the freedom and security of every existing nation against oppression and peculation, and which from its importance commends itself to the anxious and impartial consideration of all men who are desirous of rendering permanent Service to mankind

That it is not the business of those who That it is not the business of those who govern to compel public opinion to follow them, but that it is their duty to follow public opinion, is a canon of my political creed. Unfortunately the practice of those who have governed this colony, has been, both by precept and example to think differently, but the day is not far distant when the predictions of the advocates of justice and of reason shall be verified,—when the u just and barbarous are which disffanchised so many intelligent aws which disfranchised so many intellige aws which distranchised so many intelligent and worthy citizens shall exist only as evi-dence of the bigotry, and sordid ignorance of those from whom they emanated.—when the promising future proclaims the results of Confederation, the promotion of airs and science, the diffusion of useful truth, of education, of civil and religious liberty. I earnestly trust that with the advantage afforded by Confederation and Responsible Government our popular representatives may so far ignore local issues as to taithfully and permanently reform the bad legislation of the past, and by a comprehensive and liberal policy, inaugurate a new era in our political history and insure the prosperity and unppiness of all.

I have the honor to be, Gentlemen,

CENTLEMEN:—While travelling through your diagrant encouragement to offer myself as a Candidate for the Parliament of the Dominion of which this Province now so happily forms a part.

In soliciting your support at the forthboming election it becomes my duty to express my views on Dominional politics, having a direct bearing upon the interests of British Columbia, which I shall do no briefly as possible. I shall be a staunch supporter of the present Government of Canada so long as that Government shall administer the aff dre of this Dominion in general, and of this Province in particular, in a satisfactory manner.

I may here say that I am not in favor of introducing Coolie labor either on the Railroad or other public works and will strenguosily resist any attempt in that direction. Should the Tariff problem not be solved by the Local Legislature; but a modification of the Causalian Tariff, in so far as agricultural produce is concerned, recommended, I shall make every possible effort to secure its adoption by the F-deral Parliament.

I am fully of the opinion that the Federal Government footing from Sooks to Comox long before the re-opening of Parliament; should this however, not be the case shall, if elected your representative, see to it, that every settlement is duly cared for in this important particular. The subject of Immigration is one of great moment and shall always have my most carnest support both in the House and elsewhere—with increased demand for agricultural produce, farm laborers will be required in every settlement. These will soon locate on unoccupied lands, together with men. of small capital and in their turn become producers. Their places will be nauligrants from the Eastern Provinces particularly, would be the greatest possible boon to this portion of the Bominion.

When they met us, we did not receive them as strangers, but as friends; [hear, hear.] we did not take advantage of your position; we did not mind whether you were very numerous; we did not consult to see what hard bargain we might drive with you, but we said let us treat this Province as the other Provinces, in the most liberal way possible. [Hear, hear, and cheers.] We came to an understanding with the Delegates; Parliament met, and we stated the indulgence of the auditude of the province. It was pretty well ascertained, in what the Delegates; Parliament met, and we stated we would stand or fall by the Terms; we found a large support, and I'm proud to say, we would stand or fall by the Terms; we found a large support, and I'm proud to say, the representatives of my Province, Quebec, followed their leader, Sir George Cartier, when he said, "all aboard for the West!" [Three cheers for Quebec.] As he stated, the camp was placed in order and the camp to comparing this with other lands. It resembles in many respects the Maritime [Three cheers for Quebec.] As he stated, the camp was placed in order and the camp followed, and British Columbia became a portion of the Dominion. To-day the prouding of the Dominion, protected by the old flag of England, can be seen from the Pacific to the Atlantic. [Hear, hear.] We had to see the new order of things put in motion, and the first act of the Government was to look around for one in whom we and you had confidence, and we thought we could not do not confidence, and we thought we could not do great grain growing country. Nor could we mind in this respect; but I do desire, and shall ever strive to deserve the good opinion of all good men of whatever walk of life, and confidence, and we thought we could not do better than select a man so long at the head of affairs; we thought we would pay you the compliment, by selecting one of yourselves as the first Governor. [Loud cheers.] I am happy to see this new manifestation at the mention of the name of the Lieutenant Governor and I shall not fail to see the seath of the province had no specially dominant industry, we see a progress, he said, which might possibly be accelerated. ernor, and I shall not fail to report how our choice is received. My colleagues as well as ourselves had another duty to perform—not only to incorporate your Province—but that we should know the country personally; my colleagues thought a member of the Govern-ment should come and ascertain all about this portion of the Dominion, and I shall always emember the day when my colleagues thought should be the one to visit you. I came, and have been received as if I had been a British Columbian all my life. I have come to know the people of British Columbia, their wants and wishes, their prejudices, in order that by discussion, I might dispel them. The country I have seen, and I shall continue to see it until I leave. It has given me great pleasure for the most humble even, to call to see me, to tell me his wants, his aspirations. etc. [Hear, hear.] I had been told, we had been told, that from the Rocky Mountains to on il another story was that this would say on the part of British Columbia, be country was so much affected with mosquitoes, especially for a Minister of the Crown to come to, was to run a risk. I went to Cariboo and met some of them, and tend with her; he had resided in it, and he they did not even respect the Minister of

I found many thousands of acres, large tracts cultivated, and contented people, etc. Hon. Mr. Langevin referred to the varied resources of the upper country, in cattle, in grain, in mineral wealth, such as our cousins, he said, would be so proud to have in their country, wealth with which our cunning cousins on the other side, are making fortunes. When capital and population shall have increased, he had no doubt the expectations of the worthy Chairman would be realized. I have seen, still continued Mr. the expectations of the worthy Chairman would be realized. I have seen, still continued Mr. Langevin, also, a people, hardworking, honest and industrious, intelligent and as loyal as any in any portion of the empire. As I said before, I tried to meet all classes to hear what they had to say, and those I could not meet on the surface, at 150 feet underneath it, I met, and I advise you who have not done so, to go there and you will find as intelligent men, as any in this room; men of wealth and education, and who could with credit sit at the first table in the Dominion. These people first table in the Dominion. These people accept with pleasure the new institutions, and look to the future with confidence, and and as your Chairman says, the improvements already made, are accepted with thanks. It is by your choice at the elections to take place soon, you will settle the future of the country—if to select good men, men who have the interest of the country at heart, you will be prosperous; you will be badly received if you have a bad government. Besides your local members for the House of Commons, and no doubt you will take care to select men who select you I was asked to give my opinion about two of the candidates coming forward. I said when we had consumated the union, we united the hand in a more public manner, that two hunit was not for us to enquire whether there are parties in British Columbia; we wished to unite all, to form one great people, one great nation. I added, my friend would find a solution as follows: Our

He next referred to the railways which would abut on Puget Sound, and then there was the Canadian Railway—all which made our future very hopeful. With regard to the general indus-tries—commercially we had advanced slight-ly; in agriculture, largely; our wood-cutting, fishing and mining were on a solid basis Mr. Sproat then alluded to legislation, bu not being in easy range of hearing, we were unable to take down what he said.
